

School

The Road Less Traveled Award

Every year, The Road Less Traveled Award is presented to a Hill Learning Center alumnus who has demonstrated remarkable perseverance and is a shining example of what a confident, independent learner can achieve and whose accomplishments are often a direct result of the challenges he or she has overcome. The title of the award is taken from a line in Robert Frost's famous poem. The spirit of the poem reflects the many challenges Hill students and alumni have faced, and continue to face, in their lives. Students and alumni at Hill Learning Center often take the road less traveled because of their learning differences, which makes "all the difference" in their lives.

Please take the time to review the distinguished Hill alumni below.

2019: Dan Davidian
2018: Steve Schneider
2017: Chris Fields
2016: Taylor Shenkman
2015: Brad Hutchens
2014: Kate Christensen
2013: Mike Richtsmeier
2012: Alicia Markham
2011: Wendy Heavner Gressett
2010: Tim Brower
2009: Ryan Frost
2008: Matthew Beason
2007: Jennifer Diliberto
2006: Brian D. Strahl
2005: W. Keith Dodson
2004: Lee Huskins
2003: Charlie Atwater
2002: Henry Tanner
2001: Ruth Anderson McGranahan
2000: Stefan Lee Hooke